DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, 10, 11, 21-25, 27-30, 63, 64 and 69, drawn to a method of determining a poinsettia plant profile similarity wherein fragments of one sequence of SEQ ID NOs: 12, 15-25, 27, 30, 34-37, 39, 42 and 44; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 703, subclass 12.
- II. Claims 1-11, 21-30, 63, 64 and 69, drawn to a method of determining a poinsettia plant profile similarity wherein fragments of a specific combination of sequences of SEQ ID NOs: 12, 15-25, 27, 30, 34-37, 39, 42 and 44; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 703, subclass 12.
- III. Claims 12-15, 17-20, 41-48, 50-52 and 69, drawn to a method of determining a plant profile similarity wherein fragments of one sequence of SEQ ID NOs: 1-46; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 703, subclass 12.
- IV. Claims 12-20, 41-52 and 69, drawn to a method of determining a plant profile similarity wherein fragments of a specific combination of sequences of SEQ ID NOs: 1-46; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 703, subclass 12.
- V. Claims 31-35, 37-40 and 68, drawn to a method of generating poinsettia plant profiles wherein fragments of one sequence of SEQ ID NOs: 12, 15-25, 27, 30, 34-37, 39, 42 and 44; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 703, subclass 12.
- VI. Claims 31-40 and 68, drawn to a method of generating poinsettia plant profiles wherein fragments of a specific combination of sequences of SEQ ID NOs: 12, 15-25, 27, 30, 34-37, 39, 42 and 44; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 703, subclass 12.

- VII. Claims 53-57, 59-62 and 68, drawn to a method of generating plant profiles wherein fragments of one sequence of SEQ ID NOs: 1-46; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- VIII. Claims 53-62 and 68, drawn to a method of generating plant profiles wherein fragments of a specific combination of sequences of SEQ ID NOs: 1-46; are analyzed by a corresponding specific combination primer set, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- IX. Claim 65, drawn to a method for choosing restriction fragments, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- X. Claims 66 and 67, drawn to a method for choosing primers, classified in class 435, subclass 91.2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The inventions of Groups (I-IV); Groups (VI-VIII); Group IX and Group X are distinct inventions because they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects in which each require specific criterion functions to be carried out. Groups (I-IV) are methods concentrated upon the action of determining similarity based upon mathematical comparison methods; Groups (VI-VIII) are methods concentrated upon the action of performing genetic analysis assays for generating data files; Group IX is a method concentrated upon the action of selecting homolog fragments of particular sequences; and Group X is a method concentrated upon the action of selecting primers for amplifying polymorphisms.

The inventions of Groups (I, II) and (III, IV) are distinct inventions because the available sequences of SEQ ID NOs: 12, 15-25, 27, 30, 34-37, 39, 42 and 44 of Groups (I, II) are specific for poinsettia cultivars; whereas SEQ ID NOs: 1-11, 13, 14, 26, 28, 29, 31-33, 38, 40, 41, 43, 45 and 46 that are non-specific of Groups (III, IV). A sequence election such as SEQ ID NO: 1 for Group III would not be capable of, as per the claims, to provide a similarity determination of a poinsettia profile as required by Group I. The same is true if a specific combination of sequences such as SEQ ID NO: 13, 14 and 26 were elected for Group IV.

Application/Control Number: 09/912,072

Art Unit: 1634

Applicants must specify the specific combination of sequences that are to be utilized for performed assays. Each combination results in a different effect thus a distinct outcome. The sequences and combinations for any plant are different than those specific for poinsettia plants. However, if a sequence or combination that encompasses the poinsettia specific sequences, the groups will be rejoined: as for example, if Group III is elected with SEQ ID NO: 12, Group I will be rejoined as directed to SEQ ID NO: 12; or if Group IV is elected with a specific combination of SEQ ID NOs: 1, 12 and 27-30, Group II will be rejoined as directed to SEQ ID NOs: 12, 27 and 30. The same applies for the restriction of Groups (V-VIII).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Conclusion

A telephone call was made to Karen Magri on 08 September 2003 with respect to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
